- Childhood Trauma – If you have experienced trauma during your childhood, it can be a great cause of your inability to love. Say for instance, if you feel that you are not being loved since birth, you will never learn to love yourself. You will also not have an idea about true love.
- Lack of Self-Confidence – If you keep on having negative thoughts about yourself, you can't easily find true love. Like others, you are not convinced that you are worthy to be loved and treasured. In addition, low esteem can also lead to believe that the more people show that you are valuable, the more you doubt them.
- Seeking Revenge – This is also another reason why people are lacking love. If their hearts are full of anger and revenge, they will never find peace and real love. Though someone shows concerns and affection to them, they will ignore them.
- Believing that True Love Doesn't Exist – If a person thinks this way, he will never waste his time finding what true love is. He will never value the love of other people. He will also prefer to love himself rather than show his feelings to other people.
- Feels that They Can Live Alone – Some people think that they don't need someone to make them happy. For them, they can live in this world without asking any love or affection from other people. With this perception, they prefer to be alone.

Love is the connecting energy between God and human. If that connection is made, unity of all beings becomes reality. As a result, love defeats all anger and other negative feelings. If you want to find real love, simply take the succeeding paragraphs.

Synopsis

Most people are very eager to know what true love is. Regardless of their age, they always wanted to experience the feelings of being loved and to show their affection to other people. However, when you say true love, it doesn't only pertain to the man and woman who are in love with each other. It is also not only about the love of mother to her child or vice versa. True love is the best thing that can happen to someone. It is something more than falling in love. It is faithful, pure, responsible and trustworthy.

True Love

True Love is . . .

- ✓ Caring – There are several forms of love. The typical examples of these are passion, virtuous, general affection and affection for the family. No matter how you defined love, they hold the same trait. That trait is caring.

- ✓ Attached – This attachment comes after the preliminary attraction like the mother and child bond. It is the long term that appears anywhere into a romantic relationship. Once you are attached with your mother, you will do everything to make her happy and that's the sign of love.

- ✓ Attractive – Chemistry and attraction forms a bond that allows people to mate. Through a romantic desire for another person, a relationship is nothing more than infatuation or lust. This is the reason why men and women unite as one.

- ✓ Committed - If your partner loves you and you love him back, you are showing a real affection. People who are committed to one another only see positive things about their partners. In case you have seen negative things, you will just look at the brighter side of their attitudes.

- ✓ Intimate – Intimacy is considered as the essential component of all relationships. To know your partners, you have to share your stories with them. It can be an effective way of bonding and showing that you trust them.

How to Identify True Love?

To recognize true love, you have to understand the “Word of God”. Once you match your relationship to what the bible says and you prepare to make a long commitment to anyone, it means that you already found true love.

There are three keys to identify true love. These are the following:

1. You have to look at the Word of God – Reading bible is not enough to understand the word of God. Aside from reading, you have to apply the things you have learned in this guide. You also need to follow what bible says to get the real love you want to experience.
2. Be Completely Honest with Yourself – To find real love, you have to start with yourself. You have to know what you really want and what makes you happy. If you are honest with yourself, expect that you will find the true love and real happiness.

3. Understand the Level of Commitment with True Love – If you know the levels of commitment with true love, you can easily determine why you are showing affection to other people. The level of commitment with your mother and partner maybe different from other people around you.

Since the meaning of true love is quite broad, you have to understand it very well. Though its concepts are too comprehensive, it doesn't mean that you can't easily find the real definition of true love. Depending on your situations, you can easily define what true love is.

Say for instance, if you really love your mother and you will do everything for her, it means that you really love her. From that scenario, you can easily say that love is not just showing that you care, but also to sacrificing what you have to make your mother happy.
